

DEMOCRATS ARE STILL COUNTING

The Votes Cast at Their Primary
Election of Saturday—The Heavy Vote of Union

HOLDS BACK THE COMPLETION

Of Count, and Makes it Uncertain for Country Assessor Between
Madden and Engel.

At midnight the count of the vote in Union district, cast at Saturday's Democratic primary election, was still incomplete, there being fully 150 votes yet to be counted at midnight, and it was not believed the complete result would be arrived at before 3 or 4 o'clock this morning, possibly later. The great fight for county commissioner between "Joe" Weisgerber and Edward Bearley brought out a remarkably large vote in Union, aggregating 708, and the election officials had a big task on their hands when they began counting the votes shortly after the closing of the polls at 7 p. m., Saturday. The work was continued through Saturday night, and was resumed Sunday afternoon, and continued Sunday night. In addition to the Union vote, the returns are not in for two precincts in Liberty district, Potomac and Centre school house. The Union district officials at 12:30 o'clock this morning quit for the night, being utterly worn out through loss of sleep. The counting will be resumed this morning. About 150 or 175 votes remain to be counted.

There is but one contest, the result of which hinges on these missing precincts, that for assessor in the country district. S. H. Engel, of Pleasant Valley, and M. A. Madden, of Elm Grove, are running very close, and the official count will likely be needed to determine the result. Including the vote in Union up to 11 o'clock last night, and an estimate for Liberty district on the basis of the two precincts that have reported, Engel's vote is 1,371 and Madden's 1,255. Madden's lead being only fourteen votes. As Engel is likely to get more of the votes not counted in Union than Madden, it will be seen that the race is remarkably close, and either man may prove the winner.

The vote the "Dummies" got out aggregates 3,300, which doesn't look well in comparison with the 5,600 polled by the Republicans two weeks ago. The claim that the absence of contests for sheriff and prosecuting attorney explains the smaller Democratic vote does not go, for there were hotly waged contests for the two offices, as well as several exceedingly warm fights for county commissioner and board of education. The plain truth is that the Democracy is dreadfully in the minority in Ohio county, and has no prospect of winning out in the approaching general election.

The warmest fight of the day was for county commissioner in Union district, between Bearley and Weisgerber, and the tactics pursued by the Bearley people have angered Weisgerber's friends to such an extent that it is admitted by some Democrats that Bearley will likely be cut at the election. Republicans, who had been induced to refrain from voting at their own primary election, were voted for Bearley numerously, and the Weisgerber people claim men were voted for Bearley who do not live in the district. Under the circumstances, Mr. Weisgerber's friends have reason to object to the methods employed by the opposition candidate.

Another warm contest for commissioner was that in Centre district, where John J. Byrne defeated Auber, Kurtz and Caldwell. Byrne's majority over Auber, the second man, is 100. In Washington district, Commissioner Stahnke was re-nominated over Messrs. Delters and Brooks.

In Webster Charles Stevens won for commissioner over Staib and Jince. There was an exciting contest for school commissioner in Union, and at 11 o'clock last night C. F. Brandfass was leading McDonald by thirty-five votes, and Simpson by about 100.

The result on the general ticket was as follows:

A Transvaal Missionary.
The pulpit of St. James Lutheran church, on Chapline street, was occupied yesterday morning by Rev. Dr. A. Merensky, a professor of missions in the Seminary of Berlin, Germany, and a delegate from the Berlin Missionary Society to the Ecumenical Congress, which was recently held in New York. Dr. Merensky is the guest of the Rev. W. A. Werder, pastor of St. James German Lutheran church, at his home on Fifteenth street. A large congregation heard Dr. Merensky, who besides being a noted educator and missionary, is an interesting personage at the present from the fact that he spent twenty-five years of his life as a missionary in the Transvaal. He refused to discuss the war situation but expressed the opinion that the struggle could not last much longer and that the overwhelming forces of the British would conquer the Boers. He believes that the Volksraad, the Boers' parliament would soon have to sue for peace. This is Dr. Merensky's first visit to the United States and he is greatly pleased with the country and people. He paid a tribute to the American woman for her beauty and general personal graces.

Cold Steel or Death.
"There is but one small chance to save your life and that is through an operation," was the awful prospect set before Mrs. J. B. Hunt, of Lima, Ohio, by her doctor, after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. He didn't count on the marvellous power of Electric Bitters to cure Stomach and Liver troubles, but she heard of it, took seven bottles, was wholly cured, avoided surgeon's knife, now weighs more and feels better than ever. It's positively guaranteed to cure Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Price 50c at Logan Drug Company's drug store.—1.
